ECHOES OF THE STRIKE.

Pay Car Will Come Later—How the Men Feel.

Names of Some of the Men Taken Back—Shop Workers Knocked Out.

Now there is no such thing as a strike in Decatur. It's an old story, except as to the effects upon the dupes of the wily agitators, who, like many of the men, are now out of a job.

ABOUT THIRTY OUT.
As there are about 30 members of the A. R. U. who were formerly employed at the Wabash car shops, they are all to be let out when the shops open Monday. Many have already received their time.

THE PAY CAR.
The Wabash pay car did not arrive today as was expected. The pay roll sheets were several days late in leaving Decatur, and consequently the car will be delayed several days. Notice is always sent out by the officials two days previous to the arrival of the car, and so far no notice has been received.

SOME TAKEN BACK.
The following is a partial list of those taken back into the employment of the road:

Jack Kelly is now a member of the yard force.
Dan Dinneen is a hostler at the Wabash roundhouse.
Engineers Jack Tyrrell, Chas. Lumsden, H. Schwartz, Tom Casey, J. Snyder, Chas. Garrison, Pete Bruso and Will Smith have gone back to work on the Chicago division.
James Nolan has the position of night yardmaster.
Fred Gogerty is night switchman.
Ed. Gogerty is again bill clerk in the yardmaster's office.

HOW THE ENGINEERS FEEL.
In a Decatur morning paper to-day appeared this paragraph on the situation: "I wish," said John Knowlton, a former Wabash engineer, "that you would head your article in the morning with the words, 'Stand Pat and Success is Certain.' We have had that served to us regularly from Debs since every blooming day since this strike went on, and we have been blooming idiots enough to stand out until our jobs are gone. We have deserved it because we have made asses of ourselves from the start. It makes a man warm under the collar though to see the prime agitators in this movement, the men who are really responsible for the inauguration of this thing, get in out of the wet before hand and have good jobs in California for instance, while we poor deluded fools will be in big luck if we can get a job as hostlers. I know I speak my own sentiments and those of many of these engineers when I say that if they ever do get the good luck to get on an engine, it would take a freight engine to pull them out of their cage. Of course we hear that they are all solid at Moberly; that they are all out on the east end, and all that sort of rot, but we have not yet parted with all our senses. We know that we are all in the soup and we think we will be in the biggest sort of luck if any of us get a job of any kind again."

DENOUNCING THE LEADERS.
With each succeeding day since the break was made in the ranks the men are denouncing more bitterly the leaders, Debs and Shimer. Yet each striker winds up with the remark that they have been blamed fools for being duped into the strike.

WILL LEAVE TOWN.
It has been announced repeatedly that as soon as the pay car arrives and the men receive what wages are due them, they will at once embark for points unknown. Many will attempt to get the positions of others who are out on this strike elsewhere.

NOTES.
In the Review this morning appeared a string of declarations about Ald. A. H. Sutton which that gentleman says are a mass of misstatements not borne out by the facts. Mr. Sutton states that he has not received his time from the Wabash and that he expects to return to work as soon as he recovers from his present attack of illness.
President H. M. Shimer, of the local A. R. U., is expected to arrive home by Sunday.
The absurdity of Debs' proposition to declare the strike off, under present conditions, was forcibly stated by General Miles yesterday. When he was told of the rumor that Debs had called the strike off, he said: "Has he? I thought the United States Government called it off several days ago."

THE STRIKE IN CHICAGO.

THE RAILROAD. One element interesting Debs and his American Railway Union to the present dictatorial attitude is not clearly understood in the East. It will be remembered that a strike occurred on the Great Northern Railroad a few weeks ago, and was amicably settled through the efforts of a committee of St. Paul and Minneapolis business men. An incident which followed this settlement did not attract the attention which it deserved. The president of the railroad held that it was not bound to reinstate in its employ men who were found guilty of any criminal offense against the United States, who had maliciously injured the company's property, or who had placed the lives of passengers or the property of the company in danger by abandoning trains. The question was submitted to the arbitrators, who decided that the agreement bound the road to reinstate and pay men under arrest and awaiting trial on the charge of malicious destruction of property, men who had interfered with the running of trains, and men who had abandoned trains in inaccessible places. This was the same thing as saying that the railroad could exert no discipline over its employees, and it was entirely natural that Debs should think himself warranted in ordering railroads not to run Pullman cars when a committee of business men in St. Paul and Minneapolis had given such encouragement to the notion that employees might manage the property as they chose.

Convention.
Sunday evening beginning at 7:30 the fifth township Sunday school convention will be held at Sargent Chapel, South Broadway. Rev. D. F. Howe will deliver an address, and there will be a number of short speeches. There will be good music, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

PRENDERGAST has at last reached a court where his sanity will be passed upon and from which there will be no appeal.

INSTEAD of looking for more worlds to conquer E. V. Debs is looking for someone to help him let go the wild cat he tackled.

THE plan of Gov. Altgeld, Mayor Hopkins and some other smaller people to monkey with the strike in their political interest had the everlasting stuffin knocked out of it as soon as Uncle Sam woke up to the real situation.

PUBLIC sentiment, was, from the beginning, against the Debs strike; but there is no room to question the genuine sympathy the public and every rational man feels for those who have lost their places by allowing themselves to be duped by a man like Debs.

As the result of the Debs strike how much has organized labor gained by following the advice of political demagogues and such leaders as Debs and Sovereign? It would have been much better to listen to wise counsel that is never found appealing to passion or prejudice, and which has generally been rejected for that very reason.

WHAT would labor be worth without capital to buy it? What would capital be worth without labor that could be employed? Here is the house which if divided against itself cannot stand, and yet the country is full of demagogues and skinflints who are constantly trying to divide the house; but the strangest and most dangerous thing of all is that these agitators always find willing ears.

"NO, THANK YOU," is what Gompers, Wilkinson, Sargeant and Arthur said to Mr. Debs when he asked them to get into his sinking ship and help him pump the water out. There was only one other fool as great as he, that man was Sovereign. These were the same men who did all they could in 1892 to induce workmen to vote for free trade, thus voting away their jobs to workmen in Europe and filling our own country with armies of idle men and our cities with public soup houses.

THERE is work for the fool-killer about Debs' headquarters. He now proposes to declare the strike off if the railway managers will agree to take all the men back without prejudice and turn off the men who, because they were idle, took the jobs others had left. The man who orders a strike when the country is full of idle men, with families, who want to work, is a consummate ass. No proposition could be more ridiculous, unless he should, in addition, demand that the suits the government has against him should be dismissed.

CHICAGO Inter-Ocean: More than all others the millions of daily toilers are most interested in law and order. The rich man has many ways of protecting himself; the poor must be protected by the strong arm of the law. The rich can flee to some safe retreat, the poor must find his comfort in his humble home. Strikes and pillage and arson and the marching of armed bands are the last things the workman should seek to bring about. Suppose these agitators persuade the millions of workers to remain idle all summer, who cannot see the sorrows and misery of the coming winter? The sympathetic strike, which has no sense in reason, which punishes honest men for the guilt of wrong-doers, even if successful, benefits no poor man, not even the men at Pullman. At best it will be, if successful, a gratification of a revenge, which will be poor satisfaction to men with children crying with hunger or to heart-broken wives over the hard ways of life. If the working millions could see this they would rise in their might and banish these designing, ambitious tricksters and leaders to the silence and annihilation they deserve.

What Next.

The blatant demagogues, the agitators and the little whipper-snappers have held high carnival for about two weeks.
Honest men, who had the good of the working people and business at heart, had to stand back. They were threatened, dragged and abused and could not be heard, but reason, apparently, has again asserted itself, and men who a week ago were ugly and stubborn are ready to talk. The lessons of experience are great lessons in the human family.
We have all had them and are still going to school.

Scores of men who have been in the strike and have now abandoned it are willing to say they will never again be caught in another strike. This, judging from past experience in railroad strikes, is a proper resolution, but what next?
Will the same demagogues and abettors be permitted to mislead in some other direction? Already we hear talk of what labor should do at the polls, that it should vote for itself; that the government has shown by its action in the strike that it is committed to plutocracy and has no concern for labor. All these things indicate that there is danger of more foolishness.

What is there to be done for labor by voting? In one way nothing; in another way much. In 1892 labor listened to the story of demagogues and became intoxicated with the cry of higher wages and cheaper necessities of life, and voted for a change and prostrated business, made idle workmen and set on foot a system of wage reduction. In face of these conditions demagogues and agitators led labor, in face of a declining wage market, to go on a strike, which was the second mistake. Having, upon bad advice, brought about these things, there is but one rational way open to recovery. The strike has been abandoned.
That is a sensible move in the right direction. But what about correcting the first and prime error? Will labor undo at the polls what it did at the polls in 1892? Or, will it listen to the demagogue who will advise it to vote for a job lot of special propositions, said to be in the interest of labor, that will not be worth the paper they are written on? The whole labor proposition is embraced in the declaration of Abraham Lincoln:

Labor is like any other commodity in the market—increased the demand for it and you increase the price of it.

Labor unwittingly voted in 1892 to decrease the demand for labor in America by voting for a low or revenue tariff, and the result is well known. That result can be reversed only by taking the back track and voting to restore the demand for labor that the country had in 1892. Legislation from 1861 to 1892 was invariably upon the principle of increasing the demand for labor, and the result was that wages were increased all the way from 50 per cent. to 400 per cent. Increasing the demand for labor has more effect on wages than all the unions ever organized on the Debs plan for strike purposes. Both Mr. Debs and Mr. Sovereign have advocated free trade in this country and have done all in their power to bring about a revolution from a protective to a tariff for revenue only. They have fought at every political meeting they addressed, and in circulars to laboring men, and in interviews, the system which multiplied factories and opened up a demand for labor and have deceived thousands of men with their sophistries, and after thus misleading men to vote against their own interests have led them into a senseless strike by which thousands of them have sacrificed their jobs.

The lesson is plain. The proper course to pursue in future is plain. It is this, cease to take the advice of such men and start in at once on a rational basis and vote to increase the demand for labor, and cease the senseless war on every man who employs labor.

Prosecute the Debses.

Now that Mr. Debs has called off the strike and the men themselves have called him off for all time to come, it would be just as well for the government to call off the prosecution of the officers of the A. K. U. and let it go as it is. The men and the leaders have had lessons enough.—Decatur Review.

This is sublime logic, indeed. After Mr. Debs has dragged men into a senseless strike and by his bad leadership has laid himself open to the charge of insurrection, and probably treason, and has caused thousands of men to lose their employment, and put the general government to an expense of a million dollars and the several states to great expense, it would look well, indeed, for the government to call off the prosecution of Debs and his saddle-headed lieutenants on the pretense that he has called off the strike. The government has saved Mr. Debs the trouble of calling off the strike. There is nothing left for him to call off. If Mr. Debs and his lieutenants are guilty of violating the laws of the country they should be punished. He has done the country great injustice. While boarding at a first class Chicago hotel with the hard-earned money of poor workmen in his pocket, he has caused the country to lose millions of dollars in trade, and the railroad laborers the loss of time and opportunity. Are such men to go scot free and continue to revel in the luxuries that cash taken from the sweat of labor will afford them. No, a thousand times no. Let him be punished, if he is guilty, to the full extent of the law. Let him be punished as a warning to other agitators that the government will not temporize with them. In this way the government can serve the best interests of labor. The demagogues who deceive our people should be brought to a sudden halt as fast as they appear, and be prosecuted whenever they violate the law and prosecuted promptly.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS.

Second Day's Session of the Endeavorers' Convention.

FORTY THOUSAND PERSONS PRESENT.

Interesting Proceedings in Tent and Hall and in Churches Provided for the Overflow—Sweet Songs and Eloquent Addresses.

CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—The perfect July weather which had prevailed on the south shore of Lake Erie for the past two days, and which, with its fresh lake breeze, had been a revelation to the Endeavorers from the heated interior towns and cities, was broken yesterday afternoon by a heavy rain-storm.

Several hundred belated delegates arrived during the night and early morning hours, so that when the second day's sessions began in the hall, tent and churches that had been pressed into service for the overflow, the attendance lacked very little of the 40,000 originally counted upon.

For nearly an hour after all the Endeavorers who could be accommodated had pressed their way into Sengstack hall, they kept the welkin, the rafters and everything else creaking and creaking with the assistance of leaders. This resulted in some confusion and a little pleasant rivalry. While one song was being sung in one part of the hall, something else would be started up in another, and then it would become a question which side could develop the most lung power.

The session of Friday morning was opened by the announcement of the committees appointed by Chairman Dickinson.

Rev. R. V. Hunter conducted an "open parliament" after which John (I. Wooley, of Chicago, delivered an eloquent address on "Christian Endeavorers vs. the Nation."

The morning session closed with an address on "Christian Citizenship" by Rev. Smith D. Baker, D.D., of Boston.

At the tent meeting the badge banner for the most work done in the interest of good citizenship was presented to Chicago and forty diplomas were given to many societies in different parts of the country.

Edwin B. Wheelock then conducted an "open parliament" on this line of work and Rev. E. D. Chattell, of St. Louis, delivered an address on "Good Citizenship."

A school of practical methods in Christian Endeavor work was conducted in the afternoon.

At the evening sessions in both hall and tent a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing regret at the absence of President Clark and invoking divine blessings upon him.

"The Claims of an Educated Life," was the subject of an address by Rev. Wm. J. Tucker, of Hanover, N. H., at Sengstack hall, followed by Rev. John Potts, of Toronto, Ont., on "Christ the Worker: A Model for All Endeavorers."

At the tent it was announced that Bishop B. W. Arnett, of Wilberforce, O., was unable to present owing to illness, and Rev. W. T. Johnson, of Atlanta, Ga., was introduced to speak in his place. Rev. Mr. Johnson said that Africa was for the black man, Asia for the yellow man, Europe for the white man, America for all men and all men for God. While America extended a welcome to all men, the black man had come by special invitation.

Rev. Dr. John W. Beckett, of Baltimore sang.

Addresses followed by Rev. C. S. Smith, of the African Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school union of Nashville, Tenn., on "The Golden Rule," and Rev. Joseph K. Dixon, of Philadelphia, on "The Common Sense in Church Life and Work."

The committee of '94 was introduced to the convention and presented with a handsome banner by the United society for faithful service. The treasurer announced that all legitimate expenses of the convention had been met and a balance of $1,000 had been turned over to the United society to assist in paying the expense of speakers, etc. Tomorrow's sessions will be devoted to the work in foreign lands and the junior credo.

DETECTIVES DISCOVER

A Plot to Assassinate Judge Edmunds, of the St. Louis Criminal Court.

St. Louis, July 14.—Chief of Detectives Desmond received information some days ago tending to show that a plot is on foot to assassinate Judge H. L. Edmunds, of the criminal court, and certain other officials who are taking an active part in the war on corruption and crime which was inaugurated when Judge Edmunds took the bench. Chief Desmond professes not to attach any importance to the report, but Desmond has instructed his men to carefully run down the slightest clew which may turn up in regard to the matter. He also called on Judge Edmunds and warned him to be on the lookout and be prepared.

At present the detectives are working on a "clue" furnished them by a Four Courts lawyer, who claims to have overheard a conversation between two men, whose language would indicate that they were in the conspiracy.

Judge Edmunds when seen said: "One day last week Chief Desmond came to me and told me of the matter. He said that he did not attach any importance to it, as his own life had been often threatened. He told me, however, that it would be better for me to be prepared to it though unconsciously, I suppose, I will be on my guard. I wish I had not heard of it. If there is anything to happen I would sooner that it come upon me without my knowing it."

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

The Buoyancy of Business Under Trying Circumstances

A MARVEL TO OBSERVERS OF THE FACT

Railroad Stocks Higher than at the Beginning of the Great Boycott and Strike—Imports and Exports—Decrease in Failures.

NEW YORK, July 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, issued today, says:

When circumstances are duly weighed, the strength and soundness of business in this country during the past two weeks are amazing. With the second city in the country in the hands of a lawless and murderous mob, besides many other cities and towns; with railway traffic almost entirely stopped over the vast area between Toledo and the Pacific; with presidential proclamations declaring the existence of an insurrection, and the passionate answer ordering half a million men to stop work; with a prolonged strike of coal miners not fully ended in many states; and with differences between the house and senate on the tariff question so wide that duties affecting mining and manufactures cannot be anticipated, industries and trade have been unexpectedly and with sublime confidence that the people and their government would soon restore order. The shrinkage of business and the depression of values have been unexpected, but the business has been remarkably buoyant.

Imports and exports have been remarkably buoyant. The shrinkage of business and the depression of values have been unexpected, but the business has been remarkably buoyant.

Ladies having superfluous hair on their faces, we remove them permanently by one treatment. Cuts, moles, etc., likewise cured. Cancers, tumors, warts, cured by from two to five treatments. Varicose, hydrocele cured. Rupture cured.

Young Men suffering from errors cured in one or two treatments.

Deafness. There are many cases that can be easily restored. Deformities, club feet, curvature, properly treated.

Lung Trouble. Many cases are curable that have not gone too far. Will say to physicians of your city and county: If you have a patient or relative who wish examined, bring them, as he has no secret in his practice, and will be a pleasure in explaining every mode of treatment necessary.

Young and Middle-Aged Men, suffering from spermatorrhea and impotency as the result of self-abuse in youth or excess in mature age, and other causes, producing some of the most distressing and dangerous diseases, such as nervousness, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, defective memory and sexual exhaustion are permanently cured by treatment. Not injurious. He undertakes no incurable cases, but cures thousands given up to die. Remember the motto: Do not cure early, as the cure is always crowded wherever he stops.

Consultation free. Either may save future suffering and shame, and golden years to life.

Address in absolute secrecy.
